

5th House

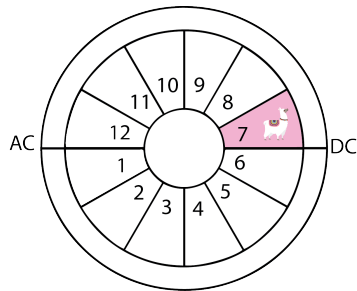

Here are places and ways that I may enjoy romance:

PLANET	WHERE AND HOW YOU DO ROMANCE
Sun	Bring on the PDA! When you're falling for a (potentially) special someone, you want to be seen together, turning heads and stirring up attention as a powerful and sexy pair. Your courtship style can flamboyant and over-the-top. You want marathon dates, curated gifts and flower deliveries sent to your office so all your coworkers know just how lucky you are. Make a budget, because romance is an expensive affair for you. But it's worth every penny since you are someone who lives for love. You tend to fall hard and fast, counting down the minutes until you can shout "I love you" from every rooftop and change your social media status from single to "in a relationship."
Moon	Dating is a highly emotional activity for you—one that can stir up everything from excitement to anxiety. You are highly intuitive, especially during face-to-face encounters. Tune in, because you will likely have "a feeling" about your date's potential from the moment you lay eyes on each other, or exchange a few sentences. By the same token, your sensitive nature can make you a little guarded initially. The trouble is, dates may misread this as a lack of interest, so you may have to nudge yourself to be a bit more inviting and open. If you have mixed feelings after that first meetup, plan a second get-together to test the chemistry when the first date jitters have passed. Go for coffee or share a meal so you can get a feel for your date through conversation. As time goes on, you'll enjoy creating sentimental memories together like "our songs" and "our favorite restaurant."
Mercury	Lingering over coffee and gazing into each other's eyes? No thanks! While you love to exchange witty banter, you need to move around. Activity dates are your jam, especially if they give you something to talk about. Fill up to-go mugs and wander through a gallery district. Pop into vinyl shops, try on vintage, then go check out a lecture or film. It's all about variety and curiosity for you! You're a natural flirt and may enjoy dating a few people simultaneously until you find someone who can keep up with your multidimensional interests. (Just check the impulse to message a new Tinder prospect while you're on a date with someone else!) Friendly, lighthearted activities are your favorite way to bond and you may include your BFFs in some of the plans.
Venus	Sorry, no spontaneous meetups at the corner Starbucks for you! Romance is an art form that you're here to master—whether you prefer to create a fantasy that's as blurry as Monet's Water Lilies or craft a romance that's as gorgeously glorified as Kehinde Wiley's celebrity portraits. For you, every date should be a curated experience, with reservations made or tickets purchased in advance. You'll take the time to research the best restaurant, wine bar or live entertainment in the area. You abhor cheapness but adore luxury. Plan ahead! When it comes to your dates (even the first one), you like to have time to prepare, primping and picking out an Instagrammable outfit.
Mars	Passionate playdates are the way to your heart—the more active and physical the better. You'd rather meet for a bike ride or salsa dancing than sit through a chef's tasting menu at a candlelit restaurant. (Unless, of course, there is a cooking lesson involved.) Attractions heat up quickly for you and you have little patience for old-fashioned courtship rituals. Less than an hour into a good date, you might be holding hands, kissing or a whole lot more. Research shows that shared adrenaline rushes can help couples bond, and this is completely the case for you. High-octane experiences will keep the embers stroked: sex on the first date, skydiving on the second...well, why not? As an "excitement junkie" you may struggle with some of the mundane aspects of dating. Keep your expectations reasonable. Your love interest can't be fiery, energetic and turned on 24/7.

Jupiter	The hunt is on! For you, the pursuit can be one of the most pleasurable aspects of the romantic process. You love the thrill of a challenge! Anyone who is too easy to woo won't feel like enough of a "prize." With your worldly sensibilities, your dating portfolio may be as diverse as the United Nations, and you may have a strong attraction to people who come from different cultures than your own. Since your mojo may be the strongest (and most immediate) while traveling, you could have a lover in every port. Attached? Taking weekend trips and long vacations is the ultimate romantic high. Since Jupiter rules higher education, you could meet your soulmate on the university quad or in a self-development workshop. Every date should feel like an adventure and a new experience, whether you're sampling the mimosas at a new brunch venue or going on a ten-mile bike ride to a private beach.
Saturn	Slow and steady wins the romantic race. You like to take your time to really get to know people. You're a cautious dater who may be fearful about getting involved with the "wrong" person—or becoming sidetracked from your personal ambitions by romantic drama. Emotionally, you can be reserved about sharing your feelings, but this can make it hard for interested parties to gauge your level of attraction. Try giving them a clear signal of interest with physical affection or words. (It can help to simply let people know, "I'm into you.") While you'd never rush into a relationship, be careful not to move at such a glacial pace that the object of your affections loses interest. You enjoy dates that have a purpose or "process" to them, like cooking an elaborate dinner, going on a long day trip/hike/bike ride, or shopping for a specific item like a Midcentury sofa or rare vinyl.
Uranus	When it comes to love, you tend to leap before you look! You're a spontaneous romantic who follows the moment—and can develop selective amnesia when an attraction overtakes you. (Boyfriend? What boyfriend?) The line between love and friendship often blurs for you, and you may meet your mates through your social groups or via introduction of mutual acquaintances. You like your dates to be unscripted or offbeat, meeting for experimental theater performances (especially incorporating technology like VR), festivals, underground hip-hop showcases or shopping. Freedom and individuality are things you hold dear. You won't rush to put a label on a relationship—or even commit to monogamy! Since Uranus rules the Internet, you may be luckier than most at online and app-based hookups. Just make sure you don't get stuck behind screen names forever—a pitfall for this Uranus placement which gives you a penchant for digital romance.
Neptune	Rose-colored glasses? Check! You're a hopeless romantic who loves to be swept off your glass slippers. When it comes to date planning, you require a high level of fantasy. Your meetups should be an escape from everyday life, whether you're ducking into a gorgeously appointed craft cocktail bar, watching an indie film or kissing passionately on a moonlit beach walk. Music always gets you in the mood. Since Neptune rules dance, you may find love under the disco ball (or in the DJ booth). You can be passive during the courtship process, waiting for others to text you...and privately obsessing. Or you may seduce with coy hints or esoteric gestures, building up major sexual tension in the process. Be sure that your flirtations aren't too opaque or you could throw bae off of your trail. Ultimately, you want romance to feel relaxing. Book side-by-side spa treatments, take your date to a sound bath, or try a tantric meditation when you're ready to enjoy a home visit.
Pluto	You're an undercover lover who prefers to woo in a private setting. Meet for drinks at an underground club or in the tucked-away corner booth of a dark restaurant. From the very beginning, you like the vibe to be intense and intimate—and the sexual chemistry so strong that it's like no one exists except the two of you. Having a date's undivided attention is a must—rubbernecking and wandering eyes can be dealbreakers for you. Since the fun happens behind closed doors (and often in the bedroom), once you get comfortable with

	someone, you may simply plan more "just the two of us" dates at home or in sexy hotels. Getting out for nightlife is one major exception! Pick up two tickets for all the must-see plays, concerts, DJs and so on—and use your cosmically divined charms to try to gain access to the VIP suites.
Empty House	When it comes to dating, you're as versatile as they come—the type who could write in your profile, "I'm as comfortable in sweatpants as I am in a ballgown." (But please...don't.) When it comes to romance, you may even feel like you can't be bothered to try and that you'd rather just leave it up to fate. But being that laid back would be a shame, since you'll find that with little effort, you are actually quite fortunate at attracting dates and mates. You might not necessarily have a "type," which can make the process of getting to know people exciting and overwhelming. Having TOO many choices could give you a case of analysis paralysis. Let go of the idea that there is one "right" way to do love...or even only one right person. You may be compatible with a soul group instead of just one soul mate.

I have these planets in my 7th House:

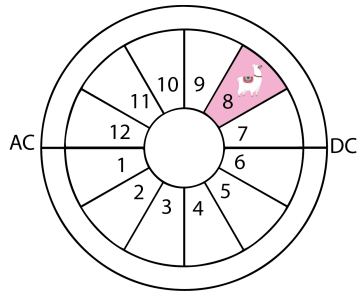

Exercise: Review the information in the table on the following page. Ruminant on the planets—or lack of planets—in your 7th House. What does this tell you about your approach to commitment? How do you "do" relationships when you have decided to make them exclusive?

My approach to commitment is:

PLANET
Sun	Bold and dashing! I like to get exclusive quickly. If I'm into you, I want everyone to know it. Don't even think about treating me like your best kept secret! You need to shout our relationship from the rooftops (and your social media profiles). Let's be each other's biggest champions and help one another shine.
Moon	Emotionally charged: I can get pretty sentimental about relationships and I want to create a love story that's worth telling to the grandkids. Anniversaries, holidays and other special occasions are always a big deal to me. I like to nurture my partners, create a comfortable home together, connect our families—and maybe create our own together one day. I need lots of privacy, both for myself and for the two of us.
Mercury	Hot and cold: While I love having a partner to be my playmate and sounding board, I get restless (and a little claustrophobic) about the notion of spending all my time with just one person. I need permission to have outside friendships and to be my flirty self with lots of people, even if I never cross any lines. With enough autonomy, I can bring my best self to my relationship and I won't stray. I need my partner to be open-minded and able to communicate about anything and everything.
Venus	Ultra romantic! Love is what I live for and I don't want the fairy tale to fade away over time. I'll do everything in my power to keep the embers stoked, like planning magical dates and vacations, taking great care of my body, and keeping a peaceful atmosphere at home. I need my partner to be well-groomed and keep up with their self-care too. Physical attraction is an essential part of the equation for me.
Mars	Fast-moving and instinctive: I've been known to race into relationships when I think I've found The One. Sometimes it works out, other times it's just temporary, but I never regret taking a chance. How will you know if you never try, right? My friends tell me that I need to slow down, but I'm not sure that's possible for me. When I'm attracted to people, I start dreaming about the happily ever after, and the next thing I know, I'm in hot pursuit, working to make that person my "other half."
Jupiter	Liberated and adventurous: I'm not interested in becoming some amorphous "us." I'd rather support each other in becoming the most incredible individuals we can possibly be. I like it when my partner has their own life and interests—the differences are what keep things dynamic. I am thrilled to explore the world as a couple, traveling to far-away places, studying and even sharing a spiritual practice. Just don't fence me in or try to take up every minute of my independent free time.
Saturn	Serious and devoted: I play for the long haul when it comes to relationships—I want to build with my partner and even leave a legacy behind, like a family or something else that we create as a couple. I understand that relationships are "hard work," and I'm willing to put in the time and effort it takes to have them last for a lifetime. My attitude about it is mature—I know there will be seasons for romance and other times that might be boring. The point is to stand by each other through them all.
Uranus	Unconventional and unpredictable: I'm not interested in playing by anyone else's rules. I believe every couple has their own dynamic and gets to write the script to fit the energy that they create together as a pair. Modern love is for me: I don't necessarily need labels, but I do believe couples need clear agreements to make their partnerships work. I'll give my partner lots of autonomy and need room to cultivate my independent life path. I don't like the idea of being pinned down—I'd rather soar and explore together.
Neptune	Idealistic and dreamy: I can be a hopeless romantic when it comes to relationships. I'm looking for a soulmate, a true love and a happily ever after scenario. Sometimes I flow so quickly into partnerships that I'm not even sure how I got that involved. But I know that I'm never stuck. When I realize someone can't live up to my ideal vision, I find a way out. I'll definitely try to make things work and I love to give myself, heart and soul, to my "other half." I can be a powerful fantasy-spinner and an amazing caretaker. The one thing I hate, however, is when things become dull and predictable!

Pluto	Intense and all-encompassing: I give my all to my relationships and I expect the same in return. I would do anything for my partner—I'm protective and yes, a bit possessive too. Pledging undying loyalty is a must and I need lots of private, twosome time in order to feel the strength of our bond. Sexual chemistry is also a must, even during busy times when our interactions are quality over quantity. I have to be careful not to fall into the "us against the world" mindset—but if I'm being totally honest, fighting against a common enemy can bring me closer to my mate!
Empty House	Colorful and varied: I don't necessarily have a type when it comes to relationships. I enjoy how every person I commit to can bring out a different side of my personality. I'm not necessarily a chameleon, but I can infuse myself into my love interest's life and create a vital and supportive connection. I can date an attractive "opposite" or someone who is just like me. Ideally, my S.O. will have enough common interests to help us bond and enough differentiation to keep our relationship dynamic.

I have these planets in my 8th House:

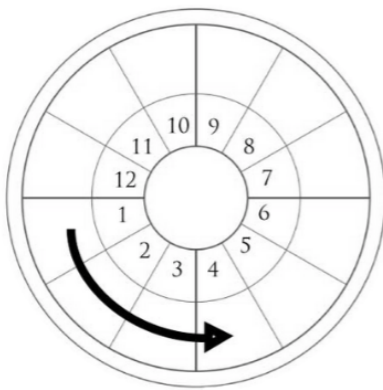

Exercise: Time to journal about sex and soul merging! (Nothing light and fluffy here, folks.) Take a look at the information in the table on the following page, and reflect. Are there any planets in your 8th house, and if so, how do their energies combine? What does this tell you about your approach to all things erotic and intimate?

My sexual and bonding style is:

PLANET
Sun	Showy and flamboyant—sex is performance art. Install mirrors on the ceiling (and maybe a camera for private footage if we both consent). There will be tons of PDA and daring erotic moves. Being the hottest couple in the room makes my mojo rise!
Moon	Intimate, private and sentimental. Lock the doors and draw the drapes if you want to get freaky—and make sure the bed is super comfortable, and big enough to eat breakfast in after getting it on. I cannot be rushed in or out of bed. Cuddling is foreplay, and I might even get a little emotional during sex.
Mercury	Playful and communicative. Talking about sex is one of my favorite things, and I want to hear all your naughty tales. Keep your phone close because I'll be sexting you throughout the day—hey, it's foreplay for the even hotter pillow talk we'll share when we're together next! Variety is the spice of my sex life: I love to role play (nurse and surgeon, anyone?) or find naughty little places to hook up while I'm out on dates. Read me some erotica or let's watch it together in bed.
Venus	Decadent and luxurious, hitting all the senses. I need flattering lighting, beautiful scents, soft bedding and the finest massage oils. I like to spoil my partner in bed and be spoiled in return. I hate to be rushed. Don't even think about asking me to have a quickie—or forgetting to compliment my well-chosen lingerie.
Mars	Competitive, verging on sport! Give me some space and activate the chase. I get turned on by the thrill of a "challenge" and want to wow you with my sexual prowess. When I take great care of myself, I have a high sex drive. Sometimes I even like it a couple times a day. Getting physical together, with dancing or working out, can be foreplay.
Jupiter	Wild and adventurous! I'm a free spirit who loves to explore and try new things, from locations to positions to sexual partners. The more might even be the merrier in my bedroom, whether hosting "guest stars" or role playing with costumes. Traveling is a turn-on and I've had my share of vacation flings...or at least flirtations...with a hottie in every port I visit. I love to read—and possibly take workshops—about having great sex.
Saturn	Slow and strong. I might take a while to warm up (or even lure into the bedroom, I'm so busy), but once I'm there, I'll make it last all night long. Can you make me give up control—or even dominate me? Playing with power dynamics (both ways) can be the biggest turn-on...and I might even tie you up if you ask me nicely.
Uranus	Futuristic and experimental. I love to try out new positions and watch indie erotica together (perhaps with some VR thrown in). I have a treasure trove of toys and enjoy high-minded erotic experiences like tantra, orgasmic massage (OM-ing) or controlling my release to build up energy in the body. A variety of partners—perhaps all at the same time—may be something I experiment with in life.
Neptune	Fantasy-fueled! Sex is a transcendent experience for me. I need to totally surrender; to escape into the sensual (and spiritual!) dimension where there are no words, only feelings and forms. (Please don't bring me back down to earth with dirty talk when I'm in the zone.) I'm not a total "starfish" though. When it's your turn, serving you makes me hot. There are few things I won't do in bed. Bring on the fetishes and kink. Head's up: I may need a reminder to discuss boundaries and choose safe words before we start to play.
Pluto	Mysterious and intense. Don't you dare get complacent: I need tangible proof that I turn you on—for eternity, and more than anyone else on the entire planet. (Don't worry, I'll make sure to keep it sexy through the years.) Let's sneak into that dark corner or DJ booth. I love the thrill of almost getting caught—and I've worn an easy-access outfit for the occasion. I may have control issues in bed: On the one hand, I want to totally let go and surrender, but don't make me feel trapped or restricted or you'll feel the wrath. If you're going to break out the handcuffs, that's cool. Just know that you're more likely to be wearing them than me.

Empty House	Any time, any place? You may be an erotic novel waiting to be written—or a sexual variety show with stories that would make a madam blush! There are so many scenarios and locations that can turn you on. The fun part is that you get to try them all. Make sure you pay enough attention to your erotic needs since they might not occur as "urgent" to you. Reading literature, watching sexy movies, taking workshops—these are all things that can stimulate your sexual nature.

Zodiac Signs in the Love Houses

My 5th house of romance contains these zodiac signs:
My 7th house of commitment contains these zodiac signs:
My 8th house of sex and merging contains these zodiac signs:

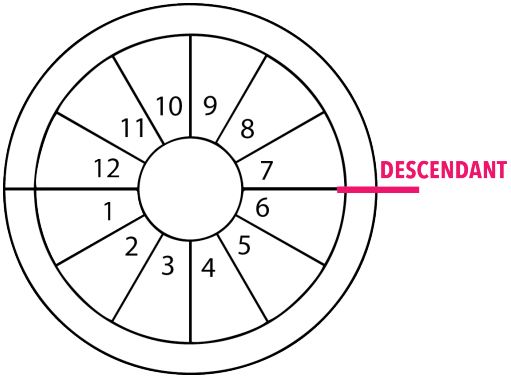

What this says about my approach to romance and relationships:

See key phrases on next page

ZODIAC SIGN	IF THIS SIGN IS IN YOUR LOVE HOUSE (5, 7, 8)
Aries	You are passionate, immediate and fall in (and out of) love quickly. You may have many short-term relationships before you "settle down" and even then, you need adventure and excitement to remain interested. You want your partner's undivided attention, and it wouldn't hurt if they thought you walked on water. Retaining a semblance of independence is a must!
Taurus	Turn on those slow jams. Unhurried sensual moments are a must for getting you in the mood. You love to stop and smell the roses with your dates—and eventually share a comfortable, beautiful home life together. Honoring traditions and having strong family ties is part of the package in love. Since you don't do well with grey areas or scarcity, shared values and a partner with a solid work ethic are a must.
Gemini	Welcome to the communication station! From flirty texts to spicy pillow talk to all-night, philosophical conversations about life, the wooing is in the words for you! Gemini rules mobile devices and dating apps were made for you. Friendship is an essential component of romantic relationships: You want a BFF and a lover in one. Socializing as a pair is also a plus, but you need equal amounts of closeness and space or things can get suffocating. Variety is the spice of your life, whether you're dating many people or filling your shared calendar with endless cultural activities and playdates.
Cancer	When it comes to love, you can be a total mushball, but with your tender heart, you aren't quick to reveal your softer side. You need to feel safe opening up and know that your emotions will be heard, honored and respected. Family-oriented and nurturing, you might even play the caretaker role for your partner at times. Your ideal romantic scenario involves domestic bliss, bonding over holiday meals, and nesting with your boo during your downtime. Being near water or on the beach will get you in the mood for amour.
Leo	Your love stories can be colorful and dramatic—but hey, you wouldn't have it any other way. Dressing up for glamorous dates, sharing luxury experiences and bonding creatively are a few of your favorite things. You need lots of praise, attention and verbal reassurance from your dates and mates! Leo is the sign of fertility and you may long for children, or to co-create something artistic with a partner. As a partner you are noble, generous and protective. You love to lavish your love interests with gifts—and receive them in return!
Virgo	"Acts of service," could be your main love language. (A nod to Gary Chapman's, "The 5 Love Languages.") You love to champion your partner and feel needed and helpful. You have a practical outlook on love and enjoy bonding over simple day-to-day routines like sipping morning coffee or going for evening walks. You bring an earthy sensuality to relationships, connecting dates and mates to self-care and good health. Side-by-side massages and green smoothie toasts, anyone?
Libra	You're a romantic idealist who longs for a commitment. Relationships can get serious quickly—you may have been fantasizing about your wedding since you were a child. You need a partner who balances you out—opposites attract! You love to shower each other with affection and are a sucker for the sweet (and yes, sappy) gestures. A dozen roses, tickets to a glamorous party or show, fancy meals and vacations: These are the way to your heart!

Scorpio	The word "casual" is not in your love lexicon. When you're into someone, you play for keeps. You want soul-merging, spiritual bonding and a connection that feels eternal. A little intense? Sure, but this placement is one of the most erotically charged in the zodiac. You may struggle with jealousy and control, or have difficulty being vulnerable. Trust and lust go hand in hand—you need to share your secrets and feelings without being judged.
Sagittarius	You are independent and adventurous in the game of love. People who are worldly, well-traveled and wise turn you on—and you may feel most comfortable in a cross-cultural relationship or love to travel with your mate. You need relationships to feel open and expansive with lots of room for growth. Studying or even starting a business together with your S.O. could be a fulfilling undertaking.
Capricorn	Power couple fantasies dancing through your head? You are attracted to ambition and people with goals—and you probably have a list of romantic milestones that you want to meet. Love operates on traditional principles for you: structure, consistency and loyalty are a must. You feel compelled to provide for the one you love and may struggle, at times, with receiving the same in return. You play the long-game, preferring to "mate for life," even if that means persevering through the tough times and standing by your S.O.
Aquarius	You're unconventional and open-minded: Love is the greatest experiment you'll ever undertake! You are the opposite of possessive and may prefer to have multiple partners or a non-traditional relationship (separate residences, never getting officially married, e.g.). When love gets too predictable, you may become a romantic rebel without a cause. Warning: This disturbance to the field can kill trust and even become destructive to long-term partnerships. You may be attracted to people who "need space" or even push you away. Sharing a friend group or community can help you stay engaged for the long term.
Pisces	You're a hopeless romantic and a dreamer—love must feel like a sweet escape for you. Someone who can sweep you off your feet or introduce you to a dazzling new world will always win points. Boundaries are a blurry thing for you, however—Pisces is the sign of fantasy and illusion. You may vault your love interests up on a pedestal, only to be disappointed when reality settles in. (Translation: You realize you're dealing with a beautifully flawed human.) A strong spiritual and creative connection is a must. You may be attracted to artistic and poetic types—but beware the "rescue missions," codependent connections, or people who don't appreciate your compassionate nature.

7 Chart Shapes

I have a _____ shaped chart

Reflection/Notes:

See descriptions on next page

Seesaw: The planets are bunched into two opposing groups, like a bowtie. You may feel pulled in two contrasting directions; your life theme may be about learning compromise, being a mediator, or balancing oppositions in yourself.

Bowl: All of the planets occupy half of the horoscope wheel (i.e., they are in 6 of the 12 houses). You may feel like “something is missing” and seek partners or experiences who balance you out.

Bucket: All except one of the planets occupy half of the horoscope wheel. The lone planet across the wheel is the bucket “handle” and it’s especially emphasized as a life theme.

Splash: The planets are splashed all throughout the horoscope wheel. You have diverse interests, but can be easily scattered. You may need to work hard to prevent being a “jack of all trades, master of none.”

Bundle: The planets are tightly bunched into no more than four of the zodiac’s houses. You may have extreme focus on one part of life. While you can accomplish a lot, you can also become obsessive, concentrating only one small area of your potential and ignoring the rest. You may need to be pulled out of your “cave” by friends!

Locomotive: The planets occupy only 2/3 of the entire chart (they’re in 9 of the 12 houses). The remaining 1/3 of the chart can be an unexpressed area—or, you may need to work harder to pay attention to this area. Locomotive people like to leave their stamp on the world.

Splay: The planets are tightly concentrated in a few different segments of the chart. You may have several strong interests or areas of strength. For example, a chart splayed in the 7th house of relationships and the 10th house of career could indicate a person who’s successful in both her work and love life.
